

Our Goal

Through daily exposure to fiber or book arts techniques, campers will nurture their creativity and curiosity, develop lifelong skills, make new friends, and have fun! Campers will visit The Makery daily for three hours (8-12 year olds) or four hours (teenagers), where they will learn and practice new skills in a project-based environment. Each weekly session will conclude on Friday with an Open House and Exhibition in the afternoon, where family and friends are invited to view campers' projects on display.

We pride ourselves on teaching serious skills that each camper will be able to carry on with after the week of camp is over—we are not simply engaging in busy work to keep a child entertained for a short amount of time, but teaching serious skills (in a fun way!) that they will be able to use and expand upon for the rest of their lives. To nurture these skills, we have sourced and, in many cases, designed good, solid equipment that each camper will keep after the week of camp is over, along with a notebook containing a summary of instructions, so that they can go home and continue to build upon the skills they learned at camp. A week of learning, a lifetime of fun!

Serious skills! Serious fun!

The Makery invites you to join us for our Creative Camps this summer! Come learn something new at our fiber arts and bookbinding day camps for kids ages 8 through teens. At each camp, you will learn new skills, make fun stuff, and take home the tools you need to continue on your own after camp week is over. At the end of the week, we will have an exhibition where you will display your work for your family and friends!

The registration fee for each camp includes all fees and materials for one week of morning sessions, where we will explore four different techniques together and work on several projects that you will take home with you at the end of the week. The registration fee also includes tools that you will get to keep after the camp week is over, so that you can continue to enjoy each new craft long after camp is over! In addition, for every camp week, you will also take home a handprinted camp bag, a handprinted camp t-shirt, and a notebook with instructions for that week's activities (for reference after camp week is over).
